

Following your recent consultation you have agreed with your clinician to be referred to an orthopaedic surgeon. However, before this can happen you need to have a telephone triage appointment with a nurse.

What will happen during the telephone triage call?

A nurse will contact you by telephone and will ask you some questions about your past medical history and current medication. You will then be offered an outpatient appointment with a surgeon from the provider of your choice. This may be influenced by the answers you have given to the medical questions. You will also be asked about any planned holidays/events which may impact on you accepting a surgery date.

If we do not have an appointment with any of our current hospitals within an acceptable time frame you will be referred on to another hospital of your choice.

Which orthopaedic hospitals are available within this service?

Within Pennine MSK our current providers are Pennine Acute Hospitals Trust, Highfield (Rochdale) and Oaklands (Salford). Alternatively, you may choose another consultant or hospital of your choice.

What happens next?

If you decide to accept a consultant appointment within this service you will be asked to attend an initial consultation at the NHS Integrated Care Centre in Oldham.

If a decision is made for surgery, all subsequent appointments will be at the hospital where your consultant works.

If you choose a provider outside of Pennine MSK service your medical notes/investigations will be forwarded on to the appropriate referral centre and an appointment will be generated from them.

What will happen if we are unable to contact you?

A nurse will try on 2 separate occasions to contact you by telephone. If they are unable to contact you then a letter will be sent asking you to ring us as soon as possible and leave a suitable daytime contact number, for example a mobile or work number.

If you fail to contact us within 7 days of the letter being sent then we will write to your GP advising that we have been unable to progress your referral.
